

click here for a better quality drawing (then print)

A cylindrical container is 10 cm high and has an elliptic cross section as in the drawing above, The scale is about 1:10, i.e. the length of a small square is one centimeter.

Fifteen liters of a liquid are to be filled into the container. Is it big enough?
(One liter is 1000 ccm.)

